Enriching Lives through Sustainable Money: That's Bright Green

In 2013, Dupaco helped members go more than green—we went bright green.

Bright green is Dupaco's sustainable approach to money. It reflects your credit union's mission to improve each member's financial position—not just for a day, but for a lifetime. Dupaco does that mainly in two ways:

Dupaco's products, services and advice are designed to keep more greenbacks recycling in your wallet. In that spirit, Dupaco performs thousands of free Dupaco Money Makeovers and Credit History Lessons each year. These detailed reviews helped improve financial sustainability for many members—and non-members, too. From traditional banking and investments to insurance and wealth management, bright green will optimize every stage of your financial life.

Bright green also means Dupaco helps strengthen your hometown. That's because Dupaco is more than local—it's a member-owned cooperative. Your money stays right here, recycled within the community. It's not siphoned away by outside stockholders. This helps your friends, your family and your neighborhood. When the community grows, everyone prospers.

Again in 2013, your participation in Dupaco put more money to work locally by providing your friends and neighbors low-cost loans for cars, homes, education, funding for small businesses and more. Overall credit union loan growth increased more than 7.2 percent in 2013. At the same time, Dupaco continues to pay above-market rates for member savings, resulting in increased deposits of more than 7.8 percent.

While member enrichment is Dupaco's hallmark, your board and management team's job also is to ensure your financial cooperative remains strong. This benefits members and communities well into the future. Your credit union's 2013 performance reinforced that objective.

Dupaco
2013 HIGHLIGHTS

- For the fourth time in five years, Raddon Financial Group recognized Dupaco as one of the 10 "Top Performing" credit unions in the United States with more than $500 million in assets, based on the credit union's 2012 performance

For the fourth time in five years, Raddon Financial Group (RFG), an independent national credit union research firm, recognized Dupaco as one of the 10 top-performing credit unions in the United States, based on the credit union's 2012 performance.

As a member-owned financial cooperative, these cost savings are returned to you in the form of higher rates on savings and lower rates on loans. It supports improved conveniences, like mobile check deposit and person-to-person payments. This recognition confirms that value proposition and member service strategies are moving in the right direction.

These strategies align with Dupaco's cooperative principles, which put people before profits. This long-term vision is a tribute to your credit union's democratically elected board of directors.

You are extremely fortunate to have a legacy of service from exemplary individuals, including three who passed away in 2013: George Bogas, David Hansel and Donald Schadle.

In true volunteer spirit, each sat at the board table and asked not how the credit union could make more money, but rather how the credit union could better serve more members. That's taking the long view. That's sustainable. That's bright green.

Your participation makes a difference. Thank you.

Borrow.

Mom always said "Don't borrow trouble." So I made it a habit to only borrow books from the library. But when my old car died, I needed a loan. I hadn't established any credit history, but at Dupaco, character is worth more than collateral. They gave me a used car loan at a new car rate—and a free Credit History Lesson on how a good credit score could save me money. Dupaco is more than local. It's a cooperative that puts money to work locally by providing friends and neighbors low-cost loans for cars, homes, education, funding for small businesses and more. Since Dupaco taught me to help myself, I'm finding ways to help my hometown. Instead of just borrowing books at the library, I lend my time as a volunteer, reading to kids. To borrow a phrase: life-changing.

Enriching lives. Some call that smart money. I call it...

Make Time for a Financial Checkup

Much like an annual physical, not many people get excited about reviewing their financial affairs.

Even so, it's important to take stock of your financial house at least once a year. It's a chance to review your budget, loans, saving habits, investments and insurance—and make any necessary adjustments.

Now is a perfect opportunity to make sure your finances are on track for the new year, says Paula Ervolino, a financial services representative at Dupaco Community Credit Union.

Remember to reevaluate these important parts of your financial situation:

Credit card balances: "Pay attention to interest rates and how much you're paying, and see if there are lower options out there," Ervolino says.

Mortgage and other loans: If you have a mortgage or other loans, verify that you're not paying more interest than necessary.

Account cards: The way your Dupaco accounts are titled affects who has access to your money and how they can access it and when. "Things do change within a family, so make sure you have the appropriate people listed as beneficiaries and joint owners," Ervolino says.

Insurance coverage: Take the extra time to get a free insurance quote from Dupaco Insurance Services to make sure you're adequately covered. "It's one of those things that you have to pay for anyway, so why not get the best deal?" Ervolino says.

Investments: Meet with your financial planner to make sure your investments are still allocated according to your wishes and needs.

Dear Dupaco,

Today I saw a poster in our lunch room announcing that Dupaco would be at our workplace offering financial counseling. I've been a Dupaco member for 22 years—what on earth could you say to this long-time member that I haven't already heard?

Ben There, Done That

Ben's financial home—Dupaco—was stationed at his second home—work—during his break, visiting with interested employees about their credit reports.

When Nancy Laugesen from Dupaco recognized him as a long-time credit union member, she waved him over and asked if he had ever examined his credit report.

He had not. So he gave her 10 minutes of his time to see what things looked like.

What Ben didn't know was that there was a lot of room for additional savings in his budget with some debt restructuring.

In examining his credit report, I saw a mortgage and a vehicle loan with other lenders, and a high-balance, high-rate retail credit card that he admitted was becoming a budget burden. After suggesting restructuring to pay down their debt faster and cheaper, I got him a Money Makeover appointment with Jo Roling in Platteville, Wis.

What a difference a day makes! That one day chatting with me in the employee break room paved the road to an early payoff of their mortgage debt—seven months sooner—by refinancing to a low-interest Mini-Mortgage. Jo also consolidated the credit card debt and auto loan to a home equity loan at no cost. In the end, Ben and his wife will be saving more than $22,000 in interest and will have all debt paid off in 3½ years. A true team effort on behalf of our long-time member turned lifetime member!

Let us see if we can improve your financial situation. Send your financial questions to: DearDupaco@dupaco.com OR Dear Dupaco, P.O. Box 179, Dubuque, IA 52004-0179.

Contribution Reminder

dupaco.com/ira

Qualified individuals can still make contributions to a Traditional or Roth IRA for 2013 until April 15, 2014.

Contributions are limited to $5,500 for each of the 2013 and 2014 tax years, according to Dupaco Community Credit Union's Jamie Blake and Lynn Schmitt, both tri-state-area certified IRA professionals.

A "catch-up" provision allowing individuals age 50 or older to make additional contributions of $1,000 for each of the 2013 and 2014 tax years also is available, Blake and Schmitt pointed out.

Members Save More than $3.54 Million for Holidays

More than $3.54 million was injected into the local economy as a result of Dupaco's payout of this season's Holiday Club deposits to nearly 3,500 member accounts.

A Holiday Club is traditionally opened in November, with small deposits made into the account weekly or biweekly throughout the year. Around the following Oct. 31, all savings, plus accumulated dividends, are automatically deposited into the members' share draft checking or savings accounts.

The 2013 Holiday Club savings total was an increase over the $3.48 million saved and disbursed in 2012.

Holiday Club accounts are the perfect way for individuals to learn the art of thrift and avoid a post-holiday "debt hangover," according to Dupaco President/CEO Joe Hearn.

"The habit of systematically saving money is a core principle of Dupaco and its Money Makeover," Hearn says.

Tax Season Retirement Planning

By Michael Poppen

When was the last time you evaluated your retirement savings goals? Do you know how much you need to save for a comfortable retirement?

Financial experts speculate that Social Security will provide only a small percentage of the total amount retirees may need to maintain their pre-retirement lifestyle, which means your personal retirement savings is a crucial component in helping you pursue your retirement needs. A powerful and sometimes overlooked vehicle for retirement savings is an IRA.

An IRA is an individual retirement account to which you can contribute up to $5,500 annually ($6,500 if you are over 50 years old) for 2013. The great advantage of an IRA is that your investments' earnings are tax-deferred until withdrawn. Also, compounding of interest makes your money work harder because you earn interest not only on your contributions to your account, but also on the interest those contributions generate.

Dupaco Financial Services offers access to traditional and Roth IRAs. The significant difference between the two is that contributions are tax-deductible for the traditional IRA,* while a Roth IRA may not offer tax-deductible contributions, but provides for tax-free distributions.

There are obvious benefits to both, and we can help you find the right IRA to help you address your retirement investment needs by analyzing factors such as your current and future tax bracket and the number of years it will take you to retire.

We can also assist you if you are expecting a lump-sum distribution through your employer's retirement savings plan. If you have recently changed jobs or are about to retire, an IRA rollover provides the advantage of preserving the tax-deferred status of your assets, while many times offering you a wider selection of investments.

As tax season quickly approaches, please take advantage of our services. Discuss the opportunities afforded by IRAs and other retirement savings plans and let us help you work toward your long-term financial goals. Please call our department to schedule a no-obligation consultation.

*For deductible contributions, certain income limits apply.
Federal taxes only. Individual states may vary. Please consult your tax advisor.

Navigating Estate-Planning Basics

How do you know if you need a trust instead of a simple will?

Many people assume that revocable living trusts are just for the wealthy, but the benefits they can offer to most people are significant.

When it comes to deciding whether you should set up a revocable living trust as part of your estate plan, you'll need to understand the main benefits that it offers compared to a last will and testament.

Estate planning should be approached in the same manner as any other important decision in your life. It is about getting the right legal documents in place to plan for the possibility of mental incapacity and inevitable death.

Learn about essential estate-planning documents, including last wills and testaments, revocable living trusts, irrevocable trusts and more at this seminar.

Selling Something Online?

Don't Buy into Fraud

dupaco.com/fraud

If you've ever tried to sell something online, you know how convenient it can be. Within a matter of clicks from the comfort of your couch, you can create a virtual garage sale.

But sales venues like Craigslist, eBay® and even newspaper classifieds are convenient hangouts for scammers.

Before you reach out to an interested buyer, be on the alert for ways you could be taken advantage of. Thieves use fake or stolen money orders or cashier's checks, make bogus claims and resort to other tactics to defraud innocent sellers.

It's happening locally. Dupaco Community Credit Union has intercepted multiple attempts by members trying to cash fraudulent checks received from online sales, says Tami Rechtenbach, vice president of member services at Dupaco. In each case, the scammers sent checks for more than the sale price and asked for the balance to be returned to them.

"They're coming up with all kinds of reasons they want the money back—shipping charges or trouble cashing the check locally," Rechtenbach says. "Any time they want to send you a check and have you send money back, the red flag has to go straight up in the air."

Here's where the seller can get hit: If you cash a fraudulent check, you will be responsible for repaying those funds.

Follow these guidelines, provided by Craigslist to sidestep would-be scammers:

- Deal locally with people you can meet in person.
- Never wire funds. Anyone who asks you to do so is likely a scammer.

- Never give out financial information, including your bank account number.
- Avoid deals involving shipping or escrow services, and know that only a scammer will "guarantee" your transaction.

Bottom line: If you have any doubts about the person you're about to do business with, end your communication with them, and ask a Dupaco staff member to review the situation. It's not worth the potential risk.

Tami Rechtenbach

Paying High Premiums Doesn't Mean a Premium Policy

It's not uncommon for Dupaco Community Credit Union members to save hundreds—sometimes even thousands—in annual premiums by moving their insurance policies to Dupaco Insurance Services.

So, what gives? How can there be such a huge difference in premiums?

When members take advantage of Dupaco's member-owned insurance agency, they become part of a larger buying group, with access to additional associational discounts.

Another key factor: Insurance rates often come down to the mysterious insurance score. Insurers weigh some 250 factors—everything from your credit score to your accident history—to calculate your insurance score, which helps carriers predict how likely you are to have a future accident or insurance claim.

Each company weighs the factors a little differently. Some might rely heavily on the number of miles you've driven, while others are more concerned with who your previous carrier was, says Tim Bemis, assistant manager at Dupaco Insurance Services.

While some factors are out of your control, there are ways to increase your chances of saving money on premiums:

- Pay your premiums on time.
- Maintain continuous coverage. Insurers frown upon lapses, and you'll pay for it through higher rates in the future.
- Package your policies together to take advantage of additional discounts.
- Be a good driver. Avoid speeding tickets, other traffic violations and accidents.

Also, don't get complacent. Review your coverage every year at renewal time, and don't be afraid to shop around.

"What I hear a lot is, 'I've been with my agent a long time.' Well, he's been collecting a lot of premiums for a long time," Bemis says. "Quotes are free, and they don't take any time. That 15 minutes you spend could be worth hundreds."

Dupaco Insurance Services is licensed only in the states of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Missouri.

Dupaco GREAT CREDIT RACE

It's Anyone's Game

With their first VISA® cards in hand, the 13 racers are strategizing how to quickly begin building a stellar credit score.

"The results will help us continue to educate members on how to build their credit and establish a high credit score," says Jill Rothenberger, the racers' credit coach, who also works as a lending consultant supervisor at Dupaco Community Credit Union's JFK branch. "The results will help us continue to educate members on how to build their credit and establish a high credit score."

Coach Rothenberger says there are a few key plays that will help keep these young racers going strong until they cross the finish line:

1. Don't miss a payment, and don't go over the limit. (This one is in the rule book, and a violation will leave the racer disqualified.)
2. Maintain the capacity. Capacity means how much credit you have at your disposal versus how much credit you are using. The lower the capacity, the better the score. The racers have a $500 limit on their VISA. Their best bet is to carry a balance with less than 20 percent capacity, which is a balance of no more than $100 at any given time. "Just by having that card open, it is still giving them credit," Rothenberger says.
3. Don't open new lines of credit. Racers should maintain their first VISA for 12 months before considering adding another credit card to the mix. "If they do open up new credit, I would suggest that they open an installment credit—a personal loan or auto loan—to give them a well-rounded score," says.

Holiday-spending bills flooding your mailbox? Dupaco can help relieve that headache! Enjoy a 3.90% promotional APR¹ for six months! After that, the APR will be a variable rate between 9.00%–16.00%. Transfer your balances now. Call 800-373-7600 / 563-557-7600, ext. 202. This 3.90% promotional APR¹ is much better than a 0.00% APR balance-transfer offer. Why? At Dupaco, there are no balance-transfer fees, or any other hidden fees, for that matter. With a 0.00% APR, most financials charge a 3% balance-transfer fee. If you transfer $3,500 in debt with a 3% fee, you're instantly charged a $105 fee. Not at Dupaco. We work for you, our member-owner, keeping your best interest in mind.

¹For existing Dupaco VISA® accounts opened prior to Jan. 6, 2014: The 3.90% promotional rate is valid for balance transfers that post between Jan. 6, 2014, and Feb. 28, 2014. The 3.90% annual percentage rate (APR) expires July 6, 2014, at which time the APR will revert back to the APR established at time of account opening, currently a variable rate from 9.00% to 16.00%, based on creditworthiness. Account must be in good standing to qualify. If, during the promotional period, the account becomes delinquent, revoked, over limit, or charged off, transactions from that point forward will no longer qualify for the promotion (balance transfers that qualified while the account was in good standing will remain in the promotion). Dupaco VISA APRs vary with the market based on the Prime Rate. There is a grace period on purchases, and no annual fees or participation fees. Other fees include: cash advance fee—$3 or 1.50% of the amount of each cash advance, whichever is greater (maximum of $15); foreign transaction fee—1.00% of each transaction in US dollars; late payment fee—up to $15; returned payment fee—up to $25.

Say What? Financial Terms Decoded

The financial world can be a complicated, mysterious place. So it's understandable that eyes might glaze over at the sound of an unfamiliar financial term.

But there are some words we should all understand to stay money ahead in life.

Because education is a big part of what Dupaco Community Credit Union is about, the staff has shared some commonly misunderstood financial terms they frequently help decode for members:

1. Power of attorney

When you have power of attorney, you are granting a designated individual, or attorney-in-fact, the legal authority to make decisions and transactions on your behalf in certain situations. However, your power of attorney is no longer valid upon your death. "A lot of people think their power of attorney can take care of things after they die, and that's not the case," says Tami Rechtenbach, vice president of member services at Dupaco. "People should always have a plan on their accounts for what's going to happen after they die."

2. Account card

When you set up a trust account, you must re-title your financial accounts. Otherwise, the trust is worthless. Bring your trust agreement to your financial institution to make sure your financial accounts are in your trust. "A lot of people don't realize the account card trumps the will," Rechtenbach says.

3. Flipped

In today's world, many car owners are upside-down, or flipped, with respect to their car loans. In other words, they owe more than what their vehicle is worth. Car owners can avoid this predicament by staying within their means and sticking with a shorter loan term. "People are stretching out their payments longer so they can afford the payment, but they're trading too soon," says Bob Nicks, indirect senior lending consultant at Dupaco.

4. Capacity

Taking care of your credit score is an integral part of a healthy financial life. And your capacity—how much credit you have at your disposal versus how much credit you are using—makes up 30 percent of that score. "When we talk to members about their credit scores, everyone knows they're supposed to pay their bills and debts on time," says Aaron Plein, vice president, branch manager/service delivery at Dupaco's First Avenue branch in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. "But a lot of consumers don't understand the importance of keeping their balances down on their credit cards." Capacity works in your favor when you stay below 20 to 30 percent of your available line of credit.

Nursing a Holiday Spending Hangover?

It happens to the best of us.

"Holiday gift giving is fun, so it's easy to get off track and overspend," says Marcie Winkelman, a Dupaco Community Credit Union Money Makeover Artist and senior lending consultant at the JFK branch in Dubuque.

But it's a new year and time to get back on track. Here's how you can get on the mend and set yourself up for success for the next holiday season:

1. Address your holiday debt.

The credit card statements have arrived, itemizing every last holiday purchase. Now what?

Find out whether Dupaco can help you consolidate your debt. Ask whether you can transfer those bills into an installment loan, such as a home equity or personal loan, or a loan secured with collateral.

"Borrowing on a personal loan is better than using a credit card, because the rates are usually going to be better, and you'll pay it down so much faster," Winkelman says. "You'll have a set term, so you'll be able to see the balance going down and the light at the end of the tunnel."

2. Get a financial checkup.

In the meantime, quit using those credit cards. "If you're still using the credit card, there's a bigger issue," Winkelman says. "You're spending more than you're making, and we need to review your budget."

Schedule a free Dupaco Money Makeover to identify areas where you can cut costs and save money. Dupaco also offers free Credit History Lessons to help you learn how to drive up your credit score.

3. Get ahead for the next holiday season.

Now is a great time to open a Dupaco Holiday Club savings account. Determine how much you spent this past season, and make any necessary adjustments to stay within your newly revised budget.

"Start saving and putting that money aside, even if it's only $5 or $10 a week. It will help get you one step ahead for next year," Winkelman says.

For more information, visit any Dupaco location or contact Dupaco's Member Services team at (563) 557-7600 / 800-373-7600, ext. 206, or service@dupaco.com.

New Year Begins with Stricter Home Loan Limits

How much house can you afford?

It might not be as much as you think. Stricter mortgage-lending guidelines are rolling out Jan. 10, restricting the amount homebuyers can borrow to help ensure they can afford their mortgages.

Under the new federal guidelines, a borrower's total monthly recurring debt—including car and student loans, mortgage payments and other debt—cannot exceed 43 percent of his or her gross monthly income. Previously, the debt-to-income ratio was restricted to 45 percent.

"Some lenders were taking advantage of people just to get their numbers up," says Jeann Digman, Dupaco Community Credit Union's vice president of mortgage lending. "We need to make sure we're putting members in the right home and not setting them up for failure down the road."

For first-time homebuyers, the new guidelines can be stifling, perhaps even a homeownership deal breaker. If you're in the market for a house, follow these steps to help ensure you're buying a home that's realistic for your budget:

1. Review your credit. Interest rates and closing costs are based on your credit score. Schedule a free Dupaco Credit History Lesson now to give yourself time to build your score before you need the loan.

2. Review your total financial picture. Keep your calendar handy and schedule a free Dupaco Money Makeover. Find out whether you can restructure some of your other debts to stay within the new lending guidelines and free up more money for your down payment. If you're expecting a tax refund, ask how it can best help you reach your homeownership goal. To qualify for fixed-rate financing, your down payment must be at least 5 percent.

3. Get pre-approved before you shop.

"It's going to help if they get pre-approved first so they know what they can afford and don't have their hearts set on something they won't be able to buy," Digman says.

Save While You Explore the World

Trying to trim your vacation expenses? It might be as simple as taking full advantage of your credit union membership status.

At Dupaco Community Credit Union, members can save while they explore the world. Through Dupaco's Travel Rebate Program, members receive a rebate in their savings account after they return home from a vacation booked through one of Dupaco's preferred travel providers.

Dupaco partners with Collette Vacations, of Pawtucket, R.I., and Tri-State Travel, headquartered in Galena, Ill. Participants must identify themselves as a Dupaco member when registering with the travel company to receive the rebate.

Beyond the rebate, vacation packages also can save travelers big bucks and travel-induced headaches, says David Lange, a sales representative with Tri-State Travel.

"Hotels and transportation are the two biggest costs involved in travel. Going by motor coach will be less expensive than flying," says Lange, adding that most Tri-State Travel packages include motor-coach transportation. "And it's less hassle. We take care of the luggage handling, so there's no reason for it to be lost, damaged or destroyed."

The rebate amount is determined by which travel provider and tour package are selected. Both Collette Vacations and Tri-State Travel offer a large number of tour options, including destinations across the country and beyond.

Dupaco membership really does have its perks.
