More Than Local

As a not-for-profit financial cooperative, credit unions exist because of their members.

With the 2019 state and federal legislative sessions upon us, please know that we continually work hard and advocate in your best interest. As member-owners of Dupaco, that's what you deserve. With member benefits like Bright Track and programs like Thank Use, we strive to be different in everything we do.

In 2018, more than 50,000 Dupaco members shared in our success and collected more than $2.6 million in Thank Use participation dividends that paid out on International Credit Union Day. What's equally impressive is that more than 83 percent of participating members improved or maintained their credit scores during the campaign.

Thank Use is doing great things for members—the more you use your credit union, the more you earn. With nearly $9 million shared in Thank Use since 2016, I'm excited to see what's in store for Thank Use 2019.

As we prepare for our 70th annual meeting in February, we reflect on our unique cooperative structure. It means Dupaco is more than local. Members control their money and reap the benefits. There are no outside investors or stockholders calling the shots. Your money stays right here, enriching your friends, neighbors and community.

This ideal is as true today as it was in 1948, when 10 Dubuque Packing Company employees founded the credit union on the philosophy of cooperation and mutual self-help.

Thanks for doing business with the financial home you own.

Participate in 70th Annual Membership Meeting

You're invited to the 70th Annual Dupaco Membership Meeting on Sunday, Feb. 24, at the Peosta Community Centre in Peosta, Iowa. The meeting begins at 1 p.m. and will be followed by refreshments, music and a sandwich luncheon. Door prizes will be awarded.

The meeting is the official forum for annual Dupaco board elections. A call for board candidate applications was published in the Summer 2018 Owner's Manual newsletter and on Dupaco's website. After a thorough evaluation and interview process, the nominating committee will present these candidates: Steve Chapman*, Ron Meyers* and Renee Poppe*.

State regulations require members to vote by paper ballot for credit union board elections. Registration forms and paper ballots will be available at the annual meeting.

Tickets to attend are $1 per member and must be purchased in advance at any credit union location. If you can't attend, follow @Dupaco on Twitter for live updates. *Incumbents.

Turn Your Loose Change Into Big Savings

See how it works at dupaco.com/SaveMore.

Save a little money every time you spend. With Dupaco's new ChangeUp Savings tool, you can have your "loose change" from debited purchases automatically deposited into your Dupaco savings account.

How it works: Say you spend $9.75 on your Dupaco MoneyCard. ChangeUp Savings will round up that purchase to $10, automatically transferring the remaining 25 cents into your savings account. Don't have enough funds in your account to round up? No problem. ChangeUp Savings won't make the transfer.

Banking by following the prompt on the detail screen of your checking account.

It's one more way Dupaco is helping you save for a brighter future.

All you need to participate is a Dupaco checking account and MoneyCard, along with a primary savings account. You can enroll within Shine Online or Mobile

THE ABCs OF Saving with Certificates

By Ali Hunzeker
Lead member service representative

With interest rates on the rise, it's a good time to reevaluate your savings goals. Depending on your goals, you might consider taking advantage of a term-share certificate, the credit union's version of a bank Certificate of Deposit.

How a certificate works

With a term-share certificate, you lock your funds in for a specified amount of time.

Certificates usually earn a higher interest rate than normal savings accounts. The money compounds interest during the duration of the term. Typically, the longer the term, the higher the rate. Dupaco offers two options: a fixed-rate certificate and now a variable-rate certificate that adjusts with the market.

When it's a useful strategy

Certificates can be a worthwhile way to save for larger purchases, such as a down payment on a house. If you know you aren't going to need the funds for a certain period, why not get paid more for them?

And the money is out of sight, out of mind. You'll still see the funds on your statements, but you aren't able to access them without paying a penalty to take them out early.

In other words: It forces you to save the money instead of spend it!

To open a certificate, call Dupaco at 800-373-7600, ext. 206.

3 Things You Should Know About the FAFSA

Your college-bound students can now file their Free Application for Federal Student Aid for the 2019–2020 academic year. The FAFSA is used to determine student financial aid eligibility.

As you wade through your child's financial options, here are three things you should know:

1 | Complete the FAFSA even if you don't think you qualify for financial aid.

If you will be attending college next fall, you should complete the FAFSA. Renew the application before each subsequent year of college.

The application is about more than applying for free funding. If you need a federal student loan, the FAFSA is required.

2 | Fill out the FAFSA as soon as possible.

You have until June 30, 2020, to complete the application for the upcoming academic year. But some federal, state and college funding are first come, first served. The earlier you submit your information, the better chance you have to access the funding.

3 | Live in separate homes? Use the correct household information.

Tricia Poplicean, a college access counselor at Student Choice, answers many questions related to families that live in separate households. Here are a few guidelines to follow:

- ▶ The FAFSA should be based on the income of whichever parent your child lived with the most during the past 12 months.
- ▶ If your child spent equal amounts of time with both parents, use the income of the parent who provided the most financial support.
- ▶ If a stepparent also lives with the parent whom the child lived with the most, you also must provide the stepparent's income because that falls within the household income.

Your Membership Gives You Access to Scholarship Opportunities

Dupaco offers multiple scholarship opportunities to students who plan to enroll in post-secondary education for the 2019–2020 academic year.

New this year, Dupaco will award a total of 15 $2,000 nonrenewable scholarships. Ten will be awarded to first-time, full-time incoming freshmen who will attend an accredited four-year college or university, and five will be awarded to first-time, incoming students who plan to attend an accredited community college, trade school or technical college for a degree, diploma or certificate program.

Additional information about these opportunities is available at dupaco.com/scholarships.

Rex Wellman

1941-2018

DUPACO BOARD MEMBER ~ 1981-1985 AND 1994-2008

The Dupaco family remembers Rex Wellman, who passed away Oct. 6.

Wellman served voluntary terms on Dupaco's board of directors from 1981 to 1985 and—following work-related relocations—from 1994 until November 2008. He served credit union members by providing outstanding leadership and actively participating in all credit union committee capacities, including two terms as chair of the board.

Wellman supported providing credit union staff the resources and training necessary to meet member needs and deliver outstanding service. He went so far as to generously lend his personal management expertise to conduct strategic board planning and employee training. He also worked tirelessly to mentor senior management through positive coaching.

Wellman served his country as a Naval Senior Chief Petty Officer and Recruiter, and he worked to instill his strong military traits of honor, discipline and loyalty into his employer and credit union leadership roles.

Upon retirement from the board in 2008, Wellman was named an honorary director emeritus in appreciation for his tremendous contributions to the growth and success of the credit union.

The Dupaco membership is grateful for Wellman's loyal service. He will be missed.

Kick off the New Year With a Fresh Start to Spending

With the holidays in the rearview mirror and a new year in front of you, it might be time for a frugal month—a spending fast to cleanse your budget in the areas where it needs it most.

When you strip your spending to the bare basics, it allows you to find your spending baseline—and maybe even rediscover your priorities. Here's what you should know before you get started:

Track your spending.

Keep a notepad with you at all times, and record everything you spend money on. Pay a bill—write it down. Turn on the lights—record it. Go to the grocery store—add it to the notebook. As you write it down, it will bring to light just how much you're spending.

Be kind to yourself.

Resist the temptation to judge yourself for overspending in the past. Instead, look ahead and stay positive about your budget challenge.

Determine where you can cut costs.

Your spending journal will help you start seeing where you can cut costs throughout your frugal month—and beyond. Each week, reevaluate your spending habits and try to cut even more.

Discover your spending baseline.

Stripping your budget will allow you to determine the least amount you can spend to live comfortably.

Establish a new budget.

Then you can establish a budget that better matches your priorities. A free Dupaco Money Makeover can help you create a budget to tackle those resolutions to save more for your goals. Schedule your Money Makeover by calling Dupaco at 800-373-7600, ext. 206.

Keep or Toss

Organizing Your Finances

A simple guide to determine which documents to keep and which documents are OK to toss.

KEEP Keep these documents forever

- ▶ Birth/death certificates and Social Security cards
- ▶ Marriage licenses and divorce decrees
- ▶ Pension plan documents
- ▶ Copies of wills, living wills, trusts and powers of attorney
- ▶ Military discharge papers
- ▶ Copies of burial deeds and plots
- ▶ Safe-deposit box inventory

KEEP Keep these documents for as long as you own the asset

- ▶ House and mortgage documents
- ▶ Insurance policies
- ▶ Vehicle titles and loan documents

TOSS Toss these documents after shredding them

DOCUMENT	TOSS AFTER
ATM deposit and withdrawal slips	<30 days
Utility and phone bills	<30 days
Credit card statements	45 days
Bank statements	1 year
Pay stubs	1 year
Medical records	5 years
Tax returns and supporting documents	7 years
Investment statements	7 years

A good rule of thumb If you will need to venture to a government office, wait in line at a hospital or sit on the phone for an hour to retrieve a document, it's probably best to hold onto it. If you can easily go online and retrieve a document, you likely don't need to keep a physical copy.

CARROLL, Iowa—Lila Smith's family had been encouraging her to leave her bank for awhile when she made the switch to Dupaco.

It's been more than a year since she did so, and Lila has found her financial home in the member-owned cooperative. She says Dupaco makes it easier for her and her husband, Ronald, to save—both by building their savings automatically and, most recently, by cutting their loan rates so they can pay less and save even more.

Dupaco's Tony Viertel reached out to the Carroll couple last fall to see whether Dupaco could cut their interest rates on their vehicle loans. The Smiths qualified for slightly lower rates on both loans. And

"Everybody we've encountered has been so helpful and friendly. It shows they're there for you and want to make it a good experience for you."

—Lila Smith, Dupaco member paying off the loans became more convenient, too.

"What I like is I don't have to worry about those coupon books to tear out to send in anymore," Lila says. "I can set up the loan as automatic payments, or I can do it myself online or in person if I'm out running errands. It seems like it will be so much easier and more reliable."

While Viertel worked with the couple, he noticed their credit scores had been climbing. He knew he could help them use their credit to their advantage by revisiting their home equity line of credit. Viertel explained that he could make an amendment to that loan, dropping their interest rate from 8 percent to 5.25 percent.

The loan savings couldn't have come at a better time.

"We were happy that we could save with all of the things we've had going on," Lila says. "We had saved up in April to go to Costa Rica for a wedding, and I've been off work laid up after having surgery on my foot."

Since joining her first credit union, Lila says every experience has been positive.

"It's been really rewarding, because we're able to save money and have a branch in town," she says. "Everybody we've encountered has been so helpful and friendly. It shows they're there for you and want to make it a good experience for you."

Curious whether we can positively impact your financial future? Stop in to any branch, call us at 800-373-7600 or email service@dupaco.com.

How to Avoid Tax-Related Scams

PROTECTION CONNECTION dupaco.com/fraud

Taxpayers aren't the only ones hoping for a tax refund during the upcoming tax-filing season. "Fraudsters are constantly trying to steal identities," says Dupaco's Jill Gogel. "And during tax season, they're also going to try to steal tax refunds."

Here are some steps you can take to reduce your risk of tax-related identity theft:

- Make sure you have everything. If you haven't received certain tax documents, reach out to the senders to find out when you will.
- Monitor your return from start to finish. Once your tax return has been accepted, know when your refund should arrive, and monitor your accounts to make sure it does. The best way to track the status of your refund is to use the IRS' Where's My Refund? tool at irs.gov/refunds.

- Use eNotifier Alerts. Dupaco's eNotifier Alerts can help you know when your refund arrives—and whether it is for the correct amount.
- Use caution with email links. Never click on links or download attachments from suspicious emails.
- Keep your security software up to date. Make sure your computer and virus software are up to date, and use strong passwords.
- Keep tabs on your credit. With Dupaco's free

Bright Track credit monitoring, you can watch for suspicious activity on your credit report.

- Be prepared to fight fraud. Dupaco's Family ID Restoration fraud-recovery coverage gives you additional resources to help you respond to identity theft and fraud.

If you notice suspicious account activity or believe you are the victim of fraud or identity theft, contact Dupaco immediately at (563) 557-7600 / 800-373-7600.

Are Your New Gifts Properly Protected?

The holidays often bring gifts of jewelry, drones and other valuable items. It can be easy to overlook the importance of ensuring these gifts are properly insured, says Tim Bemis, insurance services manager at Dupaco Insurance Services.

"Because they're gifts, and you don't have any money in them yourself, the value can sometimes surprise you," he says.

Gifts worth another look include:

- ▶ Jewelry
- ▶ Firearms
- ▶ Collectibles

- ▶ Fine art
- ▶ Drones

Homeowners and renters insurance policies limit the amount of property coverage for these items. But most Dupaco Insurance Services carriers offer the option to add a scheduled property rider to your policy that provides all-risk coverage for listed items—such as jewelry, fine art and firearms—up to their appraised value. The endorsement includes mysterious disappearance.

If you received a drone, it's important to know what it will be used for to determine whether it is insured.

If it will be used for commercial purposes, such as wedding photography, you need a commercial drone policy. If it's for personal use, your homeowners policy will cover damage to the drone or liability up to your policy limits in the event it crashes into someone's property.

"But if you are renting and don't have renters insurance, you don't have that liability coverage," Bemis says.

To find out more or request a no-cost, no-obligation insurance analysis, go to dupaco.com/insure, or contact the Dupaco Insurance Services team at 800-373-7600, ext. 210, or email insurance@dupaco.com.

Stronger Together: The Importance of Advocacy

POLICY FOR THE PEOPLE Enroll to receive member advocacy emails and updates at <https://iowacreditunions.com/StrongerTogether>

As part of the credit union movement, we are stronger together when we make our collective voice heard. That's because state and federal legislation often affects the benefits you receive as a member-owner of Dupaco—impacting the way you save, borrow and manage your money.

"Being part of a financial cooperative means you have a vested interest in your credit union," says Dupaco's Tammy Wood. "Whatever happens to your credit union happens to you."

Member advocacy was crucial during the 2018 Iowa legislative session. Iowa credit union members sent more than 40,000 emails and more than 2,500 handwritten letters to legislators last year to help defeat bankers' efforts to increase taxes on credit unions.

Learn more about how you can stay engaged during this year's legislative session and lend your voice to the credit union movement at dupaco.com/PoliticalAction. Your voice does make a difference.

Growing Your Retirement Savings Takes Time

By Michael Poppen

There is a podcast I listen to called Everything Is Alive. The show basically gives voice and thought to an inanimate object. Then for 20 minutes an interviewer will ask engaging questions about this object's life, philosophical beliefs, struggles and triumphs—which are all allegedly true.

The most recent interview was with a grain of sand that went by the name of Chioke.

At one point, Chioke referred to the Greek myth of Sisyphus, who was condemned to an eternity of rolling a boulder uphill, only to watch it roll down and repeat the cycle.

To Chioke's point, this task would have ultimately reduced the boulder to a speck... a piece of sand, after thousands of years of friction.

This story goes to show how the inverse is true. Each piece of sand or pebble is important in the grand scheme. With time and pressure, pebbles and sand form stone, which supports many of the foundations upon which we build these magnificent structures.

The same can be said of time and contributions to savings or a retirement plan. Each penny or dollar saved starts to add up over the course of weeks, months and years. It takes time, commit-dupaco.com/invest ment and some sacrifice to retire successfully.

Eventually, that boulder you've been building and pushing will reach its summit. Then, hopefully, unlike our pal Sisyphus, you'll push that boulder over the mountain and enjoy the beautiful expanse of a comfortable retirement.

Make a New Year's Resolution to Plan

By Jim Liddle

The start of the new year is a perfect time to make sure your financial and estate plans are sound. Make it your goal to address the following in the coming year:

1. Estate planning

Determine what you want to happen with your assets upon your passing, and review your estate planning documents (will/trust) to ensure those wishes are carried out.

If you'd like assistance, your First Community Trust officer at Dupaco is happy to help. If your estate planning documents need updating—or if there are none—it's time to work with an estate planning attorney to have a plan drawn up and signed.

2. Retirement planning

Whether you're just starting your career or you've been retired for some time, it might be appropriate to review your retirement plan to make sure your goals match your actions. If you are close to retirement or are retired, understanding your expenses is instrumental in determining whether your nest egg will cover your needs.

Again, your FCT officer at Dupaco is happy to provide advice.

3. Investment planning

It might be a good time to ensure that your investments over your entire portfolio match your goals and risk tolerance. If you set the investment objective in your 401(k) through work when you started 20 years ago, or it has been awhile since you reviewed other asset allocations, a review is likely appropriate.

Dupaco partners with FCT to provide members fiduciary investment management services, which encompass estate, retirement and investment planning. A Dupaco trust officer is available to meet with you to review these items. The meeting is included with your Dupaco membership—and it comes at no cost to you.

Couple Embarks on Ambitious Journey to Pay Off Debt

The Story of a Dupaco Staffer and His Wife

It was during a meeting with his financial advisor that BJ Duehr broke down.

He told Dupaco Financial Services' Cole Schmelzer that his student loans were killing him, and he and his girlfriend, Madison, weren't saving enough.

Around that time, BJ also was reading a couple of money-related books for his role as a relationship development specialist at Dupaco—Rich Dad, Poor Dad and The Total Money Makeover.

"Reading both of those books and talking to Cole helped me realize that Maddie and I were living paycheck to paycheck," BJ says.

When BJ crunched the numbers in May 2017, he was disheartened to realize they had about $75,000 worth of debt, including car, student and personal loans. Each month, they were putting about $2,000 toward those loans, leaving no wiggle room in their budget.

Something had to give. That's when BJ came up with an ambitious plan to eliminate their debt over the next four years. Madison had her doubts, but she was willing to give his crazy plan a try.

How they paid off $30,000 in the first 18 months

"Live like no one else, so you can live like no one else." It's a line from Dave Ramsey's The Total Money Makeover, and it's stayed with BJ ever since he read the book.

He proposed that he and Madison live just like that.

Instead of continuing to pay rent to live with their friend, BJ and Madison moved in with his parents for a year, so they could live rent free and put their paychecks toward their debt. To pay off their loans even faster, they took on extra jobs.

BJ has planned some strategic debt consolidation along the way. And to stay on track, he has "a budget for the budget." They use several Dupaco checking and savings accounts to help them budget to pay bills, pay down debt and build their savings.

"It's not as hard as people think it is to really, truly budget," Madison says.

Over the past 18 months, the couple has paid off about $30,000 of their debt. During that time, they've even got married—and were able to do so without borrowing a dime—and moved to an apartment in Texas. BJ anticipates they will have their debt paid in full in about three more years.

WHAT THEIR JOURNEY HAS TAUGHT THEM

It starts within yourself. Sticking to debt-reduction goals won't happen unless you want it to.

Have a plan. Create a budget that works for you, and stick to it. Revisit it any time there's a change in your goals or financial situation.

It won't happen overnight. BJ is fond of telling Dupaco members, "You did not accumulate this debt overnight, and you're not going to pay it off overnight."

Reward yourself along the way. Leave yourself some fun money, too.

Be patient with yourself. Working multiple jobs or having less discretionary spending can feel discouraging at times, but remind yourself that it won't be like this forever.

"Now we live paycheck to paycheck because we want to, not because we have to, and that's a much better feeling," BJ says.
